Dynamite Boy

hey don't turn away told you i want you here with me try learning to fly promise to catch you when you fall out of the sky trace my fingers 'round that window pane down that rocky road that i call memory lane i won't cry no more when it rains it pours stay just one more day don't want regrets inside of me why can't i just die can i afford to live a life carved out of lies and when the fun dwindles away you'll fall down to your knees and pray that i was still around my hearts in lost and found you'll see the world in shades of grey
