

Achilles Heel

Dynazty

Once I felt so strong
I could walk through hell and back
Now I've suffered defeat
And it seems my strength is gone

The fire is dying
I'm stripped to reveal
The fall of a lion
My achilles heel tore down my defense
Took precedence and bred malevolence
The spoke in my wheel, my destined achilles heel

Lies, it's rusty knife twisted through my heart
Pain the like of which I've never felt before
I fell down now I must rise
To recall my strength once more

The fire is dying
I'm stripped to reveal
The fall of a lion
My achilles heel tore down my defense
Took precedence and bred malevolence
The spoke in my wheel, my destined achilles heel

What we are, what we've been,
What we will ever be is what we feel,
What we do and how we will choose to see
(I am here, I'm awake)
Where we go, what we find, what we will leave behind is how
We choose to define the journey within our mind
(I am here, I'm awake)
What we are, what we've been,
What we will ever be is what we feel,
What we do and how we will choose to see
(I am here, I'm awake)
Where we go, what we find, what we will leave behind is how
We choose to define the journey within our mind

The fire is dying
I'm stripped to reveal
The fall of a lion
My achilles heel tore down my defense
Took precedence and bred malevolence
The spoke in my wheel, my destined achilles heel

"My true nemesis, my strength and bliss,
My end and my genesis"
