

Die to Survive

Dynazty

Welcome to the twist of fate
To the furnace of the soul
The fire where character is grown
Because deep in contradiction lies the essence of the mind
It's through the pain of suffering we thrive

The spirit will endure, for only through its death, it is reborn

'Cause we never feel alive
If we never live to die
It's revival through trial
We're dying to survive
Through a crucible of pain
We melt down and forge again
We're ascending through ending
We're dying to survive
Die to survive

Inside reawakening, the journey is the goal
The price, a secret to unfold
In the presence of mortality, a fire you will find
It's burning through the deadwood of the mind

A fatal remedy for only that which kill you, make you strong

'Cause we never feel alive
If we never live to die
It's revival through trial
We're dying to survive
Through a crucible of pain
We melt down and forge again
We're ascending through ending
We're dying to survive
Die to survive

Feed the wolf that yearns in you
Let him off his leash
The door you fear you must go through
And love your destiny

'Cause we never feel alive
If we never live to die
It's revival through trial
We're dying to survive
Through a crucible of pain
We melt down and forge again
We're ascending through ending
We're dying to survive

'Cause we never feel alive
If we never live to die
It's revival through trial
We're dying to survive
Through a crucible of pain
We melt down and forge again
We're ascending through ending

Ascending through ending
Dying to survive
Dying to survive
Dying to survive
Yeah
Dying to survive
