

Dream of Spring

Dynazty

Like seasons come and go, our history will flow
We're learning to forget what it means to know
The memory never last as present turn to past
And cities rise from ash
The mistakes of a generation fade
And the fall begins again

How long 'til the midnight of forever
To the freezing cold
Where our memories are buried in the winter snow
On the day of Eden's fall
Through the darkest night of all
We dream of spring

For children of the sun, the summer's just begun
Is innocence to blame when a child's on the run?
The writing's on the wall, empires rise and fall
Together are we all truly bound
By our nature to end?
Like the seasons ever will change

How long 'til the midnight of forever
To the freezing cold
Where our memories are buried in the winter snow
On the day of Eden's fall
Through the darkest night of all
We dream of spring

Like seasons come and go, our history will flow
'Til Eden's fall
Through the darkest night of all

How long 'til the midnight of forever
To the freezing cold
Where our memories are buried in the winter snow
On the day of Eden's fall
Through the darkest night of all
We dream of spring
