

Far Away

Dynazty

A sudden turn, a twist I could not foresee
Faith has interfered, taken control of me
A strife is gone, this battle could not be won
Yet inside of me, the will to live is strong

In this moment of clarity
I'm being brought of my knees

Far away from my land and home
I could feel that my heart's beating slow
Drifting off to a land beyond
I cry, and I call out your name

As I lie my mind and body goes numb
I look above, into the sky, so full of might
I hear them calling, beyond the grave
Don't be afraid, we got you to the other side

In this moment of divinity
I am standing awake

Far away from my land and home
I could feel that my heart's beating slow
Drifting off to a land beyond
I cry, and I call out your name

A promise to you that I could not keep
Is it now my only regret

Far away from my land and home
I could feel that my heart's beating slow
Drifting off to a land beyond
I call out your name
