

Keys To Paradise

Dynazty

We are born and raised on the cusp of a dream
All my life it's been lying there waiting for me
I believe we are what we want to achieve
Life's a chase, a struggle, a journey, a race

You've been here before, you're craving for more
Letting your fire burn deep to the bone
Open your eyes you're holding the keys to paradise
You're drifting, you're sinking, you're fighting for air
You're calling for help but nobody is there
Open your eyes, you're holding the keys to paradise

Every step is a step in the right way
Don't second guess the words that you want to say
If you fall or stumble then don't be afraid
Rise again and show that you are here to stay

You've been here before, you're craving for more
Letting your fire burn deep to the bone
Open your eyes you're holding the keys to paradise
You're drifting, you're sinking, you're fighting for air
You're calling for help but nobody is there
Open your eyes, you're holding the keys to paradise
Holding the keys to paradise
I believe we are what we want to achieve
Life's a chase, a struggle, a journey, a race

You've been here before, you're craving for more
Letting your fire burn deep to the bone
Open your eyes you're holding the keys to paradise
You're drifting, you're sinking, you're fighting for air
You're calling for help but nobody is there
Open your eyes, you're holding the keys to paradise
You've been here before, you're craving for more
Letting your fire burn deep to the bone
Open your eyes you're holding the keys to paradise
You're holding the keys to paradise
