

More Than A Man

Dynazty

She came through the door
On a cold winters night
The room filled with summer
Her eyes were as bright as the sun in july
She struck me like thunder
A sip of my drink and I asked for her name
Playing the game
A bottle of red made time fly
Then she turned away

And I
I realize that it takes more than a man
To fly with the angels tonight
I realize I can't be more than a man
So I'll dance with the devil tonight

One look from her eyes
Made the world go by
I burned with emotion
The touch of her hand
Lit the stars in the sky
A heavenly motion
I'd climb every mountain
I'd swim across every ocean
I'd walk any distance for her any day
Still she turns away

So I
I realize that it takes more than a man
To fly with the angels tonight
I realize I can't be more than a man
So I'll dance with the devil tonight

I'll dance with the devil
Every night and day
