

The Black

Dynazty

Revelation, devastation
Opened up eyes blinded from the start
I was the child born in the dark of your heart
Instigator, manipulator
You baptized my life through burning pain
Now I can never feel again

But I see right through to the real you

Shot out of dark comes a fiery serenade
Through your heart as your innocence fade away
You are no longer colored in shades of grey
I see your way
You're in fact all through pitch black

Out of silence comes defiance
Risen to deny all that you are
I'm the man forged in the fires of your war
Vindicator, a liberator
I have come to set you free through pain
You'll be forced to feel again

Brace for I am here to undo you

Shot out of dark comes a fiery serenade
Through your heart as your innocence fade away
You are no longer colored in shades of grey
I see your way
You're in fact all through pitch black

Shot out of dark comes a fiery serenade
Through your heart as your innocence fade away
You are no longer colored in shades of grey
It's not your way
No, you're in fact all through pitch black as night
All your innocence fade away
You are no longer colored in shades of grey
I see your way
Right through to the real you
You're in fact all through pitch black
