The Man and the Elements

Dynazty

I see a thunder bolt cut through the sky
I hear the decibels race with a cry
As the adrenaline race to my heart
I brace for collision while worlds fall apart

I'll never give in

Earth, wind and fire may stand in my way
Hell or high water I'll still be the same
Whatever comes and whatever will be
The choice is mine and I choose to be me

Powers to be cannot break my resolve
No force of nature will shake me to fall
I will bear witness to this vile attempt
One man alone against the elements

I'll never give in
I shall never give in

Earth, wind and fire may stand in my way
Hell or high water I'll still be the same
Whatever comes and whatever will be
The choice is mine and I choose to be me

I won't let it go
I'll never give in

Earth, wind and fire may stand in my way
Hell or high water I'll still be the same
Whatever comes and whatever will be
The choice is mine and I choose to be me

Earth, wind and fire may stand in my way
Hell or high water I'll still be the same
Whatever comes and whatever will be
The choice is mine and I choose to be me
