

friendly fire

eaJ

Late night, restless
I can smell the white lies on your (breath)
Words fly, bullets
Ripping through our hearts straight out our (chest)

I heard whispers through the grapevine
Birds chirp they say that we're not fine
Crossed hearts, crossed fingers and crossed lines
Caught in the crossfire
Lately you and I are trading friendly fire
Falling to pieces slowly
You and I are trading friendly fire
How did I turn you on me

Don't you forget
How we used to be when we first (met)
Close call, regrets
Lead us to this path that we both (set)

I heard whispers through the grapevine
For sure they say that we're not fine
Crossed hearts, crossed fingers and crossed lines
Caught in the crossfire
Lately you and I are trading friendly fire
Falling to pieces slowly
You and I are trading friendly fire
How did I turn you on me

Night after night
I know I need to let you go
Can't get back where we were before
I know I need to let you go
(Night after night after night)
I know I need to let you go
Can't get back where we were before
I know I need to let you go
(Night after night after night)
You and I are trading friendly fire
Falling to pieces slowly
You and I are trading friendly fire
How did I turn you on me
