

Remember

Earshot

It used to bring me down all these cold fresh lies
Year after year
A waste of precious time and wasted tears
Now I'm getting pretty high, think I'm touching the sky and I
Wish you were here
There's nothing not a thing that you should fear
There's nothing not a thing that you could, fear

Remember

Remember

When you find yourself, then you'll find some serenity
Remember, but never surrender
It's not right if you're not who you want to be
And time flies when you're lost in insanity

Yes, life can be a perfect dream
If you can be
Aware enough to free yourself from your
Misery
Take a right turn down the path you're meant
Off the dead end road
And back to yourself again

Remember

Remember

When you find yourself, then you'll find some serenity
Remember, but never surrender
It's not right if you're not who you want to be
And time flies when you're lost in insanity

Someway, somehow
We'll realize that it's now
The moments all that matters
