

Forged In The Flames

Earth Crisis

Forged in the flames of chaos
Hammered by trials to tempered steel Convictions, tried and tested, onto a razor's edge, that's true and real Wrought between the hammer and the anvil, strengthened to never break
The weakness that surrounds is the evil that I forsake Never have I taken in vain the sacred vessel of my soul
I am the master of my faith, my destiny I control Nobility lies in actions, corrections where once was wrong
Ascension from evil with a heart that's true and strong Through this veil of shadows, the light of truth is my only guide
A knight unyielding
To the X I'm crucified.
