you will never be the same again
you will never be the same temptation

i feel it, i greet it i know it has a fking name i breathe it through the gills a distraction – undermined, overblown the seeds are sown, rachet caught in a grip that can only tighten never, never, never

you will never be
