

A thousand yard stare
Crying at the museum - I wasn't even there
The life I left behind, is it still there?
Are you still there?

No, you're right here, you're wearing a body cam
Second hand embarrassment
I'm scared that you won't feel anymore
See I waiting to find my Jane
Are you my Jane?

Stay for minute, frozen cryogenics
For crying out loud, phone a medic, it's doing my head in
Stay for a minute, take it as a given

Wish I didn't hit the airport, balancing real shit and Duolingo
I've got stamps inside my passport
Visa
Mastercard
Revolut
Suica
I've got it all going crazy

Will you be there when I land?
Will you be my right hand?
I want to put my hands on your body but I don't know where we stand

You say you don't understand
Promise you don't have to stand
You say you don't understand

I feel dizzy from the day glow
I feel different as the day goes
Night time got me on your pay roll
White lights, feeling unstable

I feel dizzy from the day glow
I feel different as the day goes
Night time got me on your pay roll
White lights, feeling unstable

I feel dizzy
It goes, it goes, it goes
Let me out

Stay for minute, frozen cryogenics
Day glow
Stay for a minute, take it as a given
