

It's never black and white
It's playing on my mind like Othello
And as we intertwine you make my upper lip shake like jello
And before I
Could get my words out
There was nothing but thin air
And before I
Could check my radar
There was nothing but thin air

She said, see you later alligator
Lacoste crop-top on the escalator
Said she's going through a bad time, been a hard ride
So she wore a bomber jacket and a detonator
Should have worn a high-vis
Don't turn down your brightness
What is life without all of the herbs and all the spices?
Shaking like arthritis, putting in a night shift
Turning up the voltage

Can you supercharge my electricity
Before you cut off my supply?
I think I'm drowning, think I'm in too deep
On my way up my brain is fried

It's never black and white
It's playing on my mind like Othello
And as we intertwine you make my upper lip shake like jello
And before I
Could get my words out
There was nothing but thin air
And before I
Could check my radar
There was nothing but thin air

So when you coming back?
Giving A+ good grad class brainiac
You arrest my cardiac, put me in the back
2am, can't sleep, count sheep, insomniac
I, I, I, I don't want to miss a minute
I, I, I, I'm thread counting your linen
I, I, ice cold when you walk out the door
And then she turned around and said
Her anxiety got her freaking out almost every weekend
I don't mean to intrude but that's no way to be living
So, bite me with your fangs
Need you in my veins, I need you in my veins
Yeah
All of your haemoglobin
I'm floating
You don't mean to intrude but you know that you're always welcome
I really let you get too
Far
Away

It's never black and white
It's playing on my mind like Othello

And as we intertwine you make my upper lip shake like jello
And before I
Could get my words out
There was nothing but thin air
And before I
Could check my radar
There was nothing but thin air

Can you supercharge my electricity
Nothing but thin air
Before you cut off my supply?
Nothing but thin air
I think I'm drowning, think I'm in too deep
Nothing but thin air
On my way up my brain is fried
Nothing but thin air
