

Hole In The Holy

Echo & the Bunnymen

Jump right in, take the call
Were you pushed or did you fall?
Fell apart feeling low
Happy ride the merry-go

And I always hear them singing
And complaining about the world
But my chiming bells are ringing out
The word, the word, the word

Love rebounds, heart goes snap
Is she ever coming back?
Let her down break her fall
Never ever felt so small

And I always hear them singing
And complaining about the world
And my chiming bells are ringing out
The word the word the word

Feeling good again always hoped I would Never believed that I ever could Felling blue again, never wanted to
Under the weather and it's over you

Over you
(The hole in the holy
And the crack in our hearts)

Over you
(It's love and love only
That sets our world apart)

Over you
(Worlds apart)
Joined at the heart)

Jump right in, take the call
Were you pushed or did you fall?
Fell apart feeling low

And I always hear them singing
And complaining about the world
But my chiming bells are ringing out
The word, the word, the word

Feeling good again
Feeling good again

Over you
(The hole in the holy
And the crack in our hearts)

Over you
(It's love and love only
That sets our world apart)

Feeling good again
Feeling good again

Over you
(And a dream is a means
To an end of the things)

Over you
(That will tempt you away
From the path to the true way in)

Feeling good again
Feeling good again
Over you, over you
