

Perfect Light

Echosmith

On a highway back to Eden
And it takes a while
The high road takes a beating
But I'd walk a mile
Rain or shine
It's a sign of the times
That I'm taking the dive
But only with you

You're what a Saturday morning's supposed to feel like, like
It's a comin' home feeling after a long night, night
When everything's bad yeah, you take me to the garden
Breath of fresh air, it's a new beginning
Take a mental picture
Catch you in the perfect light, light

I'm a hostage to the feeling
That I'm not allowed
To give into the healing
But it's solar power
How you turn
What's supposed to just burn
Into beautiful words
And now I'm brand-new

You're what a Saturday morning's supposed to feel like, like
It's a comin' home feeling after a long night, night
When everything's bad yeah, you take me to the garden
Breath of fresh air, it's a new beginning
Take a mental picture
Catch you in the perfect light, light

You're the comfort in the chaos
It's a little taste of heaven
You're the one who breaks the tension
My favorite intervention

You're what a Saturday morning's supposed to feel like, like
It's a comin' home feeling after a long night, night
When everything's bad yeah, you take me to the garden
Breath of fresh air, it's a new beginning
Take a mental picture
Catch you in the perfect light, light
