

Primadonna

Echosmith

Crushed a dream in half an evening
Wrong place and wrong time
Hit the ceiling
Stop believing
All heroes can fly

You built a reputation
Turns out it was laced with copyrighted pages
I read 'em all
And ignorance is bliss 'cause now I kinda wish I was still in the dark

Catch me tearing down the posters on my wall I, wall I
Liked you more before I really met ya
You paint yourself so pretty prima donna, donna
But you make it so easy to forget ya
Ooh
Better off before I saw ya
Leave my love prima donna
Called your bluff, now ya gotta
Leave my love prima donna

I made you a super human
I guess that's my bad
It's so strange it takes so much to
Make a villain sad

You built a reputation
Turns out it was laced with copyrighted pages
I read 'em all
And ignorance is bliss 'cause now I kinda wish I was still in the dark

Catch me tearing down the posters on my wall I, wall I
Liked you more before I really met ya
You paint yourself so pretty prima donna, donna
But you make it so easy to forget ya
Ooh
Better off before I saw ya
Leave my love prima donna
Called your bluff, now ya gotta
Leave my love prima donna

Oh I guess that's what you get
When you're dancing with all your fake friends
In a castle made of lead
The party always ends

You'll watch the world go right around without ya, out
I liked you so much more before I met ya
You paint yourself so pretty prima donna, donna
But you make it so easy to forget ya
Ooh
Better off before I saw ya
Called your bluff, now ya gotta
