

Pieces

Eclipse

The promises
The lies, the fact, the fiction
The wreckage of a life I used to know

The loneliness
The scars, the wounds, the healing
But I just can't see the sun beneath the clouds

Better carry on when hope is gone
And nothing's left to lose

Tell me how
Tell me how am I supposed to live
When everything is falling to pieces
How can you just give away the only thing I ever wanna save
Now everything is falling to pieces

I'll find a way
Across the darkened waters
No matter how far, no matter how deep it is

The echoes of a former life
I leave it all behind

Tell me how
Tell me how am I supposed to live
When everything is falling to pieces
How can you just give away the only thing I ever wanna save
Now everything is falling to pieces

Oh, what would I be...

Just tell me how
Tell me how am I supposed to live
When everything is falling to pieces
How can you just give away the only thing I ever wanna save
Now everything is falling to pieces
