

The Broken

Eclipse

Don't ever let them make you fall into line
Don't ever let them say that you're a waste of time
Don't ever let them make you give up and cry
Cause they don't know why

A million reasons not to get what they want
A million reasons why you're right and they are wrong
A million reasons not to give up the fight
Cause they don't know why
Oh, they don't know why...

Cause we've got nothing to lose
We are the broken
We've got nothing to fear from you
Got everything to win and nothing to lose
We are the broken
We are the broken

There's always someone there to make you feel small
There's always someone there that tries to make you fall
There's always someone that keeps telling you lies
Cause they don't know why
Oh, they don't know why...

Cause we've got nothing to lose
We are the broken
We've got nothing to fear from you
Got everything to win and nothing to lose
We are the broken

Don't ever let them make you fall into line
Don't ever let them say that you're a waste of time

We've got nothing to lose
We are the broken
We've got nothing to fear from you
Got everything to win and nothing to lose
We are the broken
We are the broken
