

Colourblind

Ed Sheeran

Kaleidoscope love
Yeah, that is you and me
Forever changing
We make life interesting
Some days we're red and some days we both think green
But I like the nights when we leave the canvas free

Grab a brush and see where the feeling may lead
Nothing is out of our reach
Our words are mixing the pigment we need
Can we get started?

I keep falling deeper in dark blue
Brighter than white
Rainbows exploding
But I can't see nothing
Except you and your eyes
Maybe we'll just paint the night colourblind

In every spectrum we find the millionth piece
Connect the dots and everything in between
Mm, dull in the moment, you'll turn it golden leaf
You take the dark away and that's no easy feat

Pick an orange, watch the shade change in the heat
From yellow, purple, and green
Your words are mixing each pigment we need
Can we get started?

I keep falling deeper in dark blue
Brighter than white
Rainbows exploding
But I can't see nothing
Except you and your eyes
Maybe we'll just paint the night colourblind, mm
Maybe we'll just paint the night colourblind
