

All Alone in This World Without You

Eddy Arnold

Oh you cheated and you lied you laughed because I cried
You said that you had found somebody new
But I gambled and I lost now I'll pay what be the cost
All alone in this world without you

All alone in this world all alone and so blue
Alone with my memories of you
Just heartaches and tears and sorrows through the years
I'm alone in this world without you

Somehow I can't forget the day when we first met
You promised to always be true
But now you have gone and I'm left all alone
All alone in this world without you

All alone in this world all alone and so blue
Alone with my memories of you
Just heartaches and tears and sorrows through the years
I'm alone in this world without you

My heart is broken now I can't forget somehow
Those sweet little things you used to do
I won't worry you again I'll just go on to the end
All alone in this world without you

All alone in this world all alone and so blue
Alone with my memories of you
Just heartaches and tears and sorrows through the years
I'm alone in this world without you
