

I'm Letting You Go

Eddy Arnold

I'm trying my best to convince myself
That I'm doing the right thing by you You'd never have asked to be free of our love
And I've loved you so much and I still do

If you had been cheat or wrong me in someway
I guess it would be easier for me
But that's not my story it's just that you love another not me

I'm letting you go for I can't bear to see all your loveliness fade away and die
Our folks will be hurt for little they know no one knows just you and I
The one that you loved is the one that I thought
I could make you forget and never cry
Your heart is still cold I've got heartaches untold I'm lettin g you go goodbye
