

Little Bit

Eddy Arnold

You're a little bit sweet you're a little bit mean
You're a little bit cute than the others I've seen
I wouldn't be sittin' here feelin' so blue
If I could get a little bit lovin' from you

You're a little bit smart you're a little bit dumb
And without of your kisses I'm a little bit numb
There wouldn't be a single thing I couldn't do
If you would only love me just a little bit too

For when I look into your eyes
They're a little bit bluer than the skies
You're so beauty I'm well aware
You've got a little bit more than your share

You're a little bit good you're a little bit bad
And when you're not around I'm a little bit sad
I'd be so much happier than ever before
If you would only love me just a little bit more
