

Then I'll Be Over You

Eddy Arnold

When I try to go to sleep and know
That I won't lie awake and cry then I'll be over you
When I wake up in the morning and I find
That you're not on my mind then I'll be over you

If the time should arrive when I feel alive once again
When each beat of my heart says it's time to start giving in
When I close my eyes in someone's warm embrace
And I don't see your face then I'll be over you
When I don't see your face then I'll be over you
