

There You Go

Eddy Arnold

There you go pretending that you own me
Actin' like you turn the world in which I live
There you go pretending that you'll never hurt me
Actin' like an angel that I should forgive.

There you go now can't you see I'm not part of your show now
I'm just a fool not the leading guy you used to know
There you go pretending that you'll never hurt me
Actin' like you turn the world in which I live.

There you go actin' like I'll always need you
There you go guess you think I always will.
There you go guess you think I always will...
