

You Just Found My Weakness

Eddy Grant

You're making me shake my body
You're making me should out oh ay ay
I love you like milk and honey
And I feel I could drink you the whole night
Girl I think I'm going crazy
My cholesterol going up and down
Everything is bright then hazy
And I feel that my brain's in the lost and found

I tell you oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know
I'm losing my self control
Oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know
I'm losing my self control

Everything is a new dimension
Yeah, like the 3D picture on the sky
Gravity won't come and take me
Baby, hold me back or else I'm gonna fly
I'm in the Getty museum
Feeling the patina on the bronze
Standing in the Colosseum
Weird proscenium structures all around

I tell you oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know
I'm losing my self control
Oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know
I'm losing my self control

I tell you oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know
I'm losing my self control
Oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know
I'm losing my self control

Stop making me work baby
I don't wanna work the whole night long
I know what you're doing baby
You want me to sing the same old song
Stop making me work baby
I don't want to work the same old way
I know what you're doing baby
You want me to work till the break of day

I tell you oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know

I'm losing my self control
Oh, oh
You just found my weakness
Don't want everybody to know
I'm losing my self control

My weakness, you just found my weakness
My weakness, you just found my weakness
My weakness, you just found my weakness
My weakness, you just found my weakness
