I think you're something
Different than a lot of the girls
I think you're something
Different than a lot of the girls
Different than a lot of the girls
Different than a lot of the girls

I thought I carried it all
But your beauty overflows
I thought I caught myself
But my fluttering heart is so obvious

I thought I learned about you
But I forget everyday
Love with you is something special

It thought you were similar
You're so different than other women
You're so different
I realize your superiority once again
Oh I think you're special
You're something special

I think you're something, you're seriously different
Different than a lot of the girls
I give myself again and again
But still feels like it's not enough
Others don't really know you
How special you are
Like a wonderland
I'm gonna live deep in your heart

You're so different
But our music taste is the same
So sometimes, when I feel blue
I can you smile in this groove
Actually, we're pretty similar

I think we're same, we're so similar
Every night, we kiss
I give myself again and again
But still feels like it's not enough
Only I know you the best
Filled with softness like a Madeleine
I'm gonna live deep in your heart

Others don't know what you're hiding
Cuz I am the one who got the key
Slowly, one by one
From your beckons to your different facial expressions
You hid them just for me

I think we're same, we're so similar
Every night, we kiss
I give myself again and again
But still feels like it's not enough

Only I know you the best
Filled with softness like a Madeleine
I'm gonna live deep in your heart

I think you're something
Different than a lot of the girls
I think you're something
Different than a lot of the girls
Different than a lot of the girls
Different than a lot of the girls
