

Magnificat

Eden's Bridge

I know I hardly know you girl But when you were still a child, it seems You had a visitation out of nowhere The message held n o compromise It needed all your heart and mind To understand th e meaning you were given

And the words ran over in your mind And the shock waves echoed through your time

And your soul proclaimed the greatness of the Lord And your spi rit did rejoice in God your saviour For He had looked with favo ur on His lowly servant from this day forward all generations W ould call you blessed, blessed, so blessed

The birth became reality The fast-approaching motherhood Effect s upon your friends and family And Joseph could not see It seem s he thought that you were through But he was given guidance to o.

And the words ran over in his mind...

Then the time of birth was due The stresses on your life increa sed The travelling, nowhere for you to sleep But all the words came true A miracle had come to earth The virgin girl had given birth..

And the words run over in my mind And the shock waves echo thro ugh all time...
