

Whole Earth

Eden's Bridge

Mist slowly rising, The veil gently lifted Revealing the splendour Of another new day The valleys and hillsides Are the prints of your fingers All lifting their faces To the call of your name

And I hear it beginning A feeling arising A sense of your presence
In all I survey

And the mountains and the hills Shall break forth before You
With shouts of joy And words of praise And the sunlight that glis-
tens Upon the waters Will lift my heart Once again And the whole earth The whole earth will praise your name.

Flashes of scarlet And glimpses of purple Echoes of birdsong And the whisper of rain So intense an outpouring Is bemusing my senses Creation responding To the call of your name.

And I hear it beginning A feeling arising A sense of your presence
In all I survey

And the mountains and the hills Shall break forth before You
With shouts of joy And words of praise And the sunlight that glis-
tens Upon the waters Will lift my heart Once again And the whole
earth The whole earth will praise your name