

I never had the guts to run away
Ever since '16, been dreamin' of a brighter day
Outta' control now to everything
You came out the blue, or was it blue gray?
Felt like waking up in a new place (New place, new place)
We stole the dark from the night
Shown a new way, ooh (New way, new way)
But I can feel your heartbeat rising
Even when you're a ghost
And I can feel your every single movement

How fast the light died out
We lost track of ourselves, riding the wave (Woah)
At last, the time will run out
Waiting for us to lose it now (You gave up, yeah)
Don't you let me down
