Jupiter

EDEN

Can you hear me out this time just
A minute let me find my thoughts
Cos I can't think straight in the silence
And Jupiter ain't seen a storm like this, no
Cos it's so hard out on the sidelines
When I just want to blow this ten miles wide
And I can't help but keep on thinking
These thoughts are gonna bury me alive

But this jealousy won't get the best of me
Maybe if I just had more patience I could be

So far from here
And the stars they'll guide me on
When I falter
And everything comes crumbling down
Cos it does and it will
It's not heaven
But we got so close

In the aftermath this vacuum's lifeless
The afterglow makes the past so inviting
Who knew?

I hear them say that I'm caught up with my head lost and found
But I know exactly where I wish I was if I could only
Just keep on moving cos I got a vision
If I can I'm running to wherever I gotta go
I'm sorry I gotta go
But these words lose their meaning
Cos I just keep repeating them like that'll make them come alive
But they're only words and you know it
You've always known better than I do

And it feels like I know nothing but envy
Maybe if I just had more patience I would be

So far from here
And the stars they'll guide me home
When I falter
And everything comes crumbling down
Cos it has and it will
You're no angel
But we got so close

You liar
And I fell for every word
Who knew?
You lied
But maybe I wanted you to
Who knew?
Who knew?
