EDEN

Speaking of another liar
I can't unfold our heartbreak from another time
Four seconds too long
In my head I get caught, I suppose
Just wishing I won't let her mind, alright

So we can fly away
Wondering way out loud 'till my thoughts say so
Just to ride the wave
I think I move too fast, enough to take it slow

'Cause I'll just keep running, tripping, falling
Running, tripping, falling
And I just keep running, tripping, falling
Running, tripping, running, tripping
I just keep running, tripping, falling
Running, tripping, falling
But maybe I'll get somewhere, fast, fast

'Cause speaking of another lie, just to make times last
'Cause speaking of another love died, all just typecast
Say I fall in love too fast
For my own good
Good, good, good

We can run away
I'll move 'till I die, enough to take it slow
Just to ride the wave
We're moving too fast, enough to take

'Cause I just keep running, tripping, falling
Running, tripping, falling
And I just keep running, tripping, falling
Running, tripping, running
And I just keep running, tripping, falling
Running, tripping, falling
But maybe I'll get somewhere, fast, fast
