

In Your Sleep

Edge of Dawn

I will find you in your sleep
For the promises you never keep
You offered much more
And you'll reap what you sow

I will haunt you in your sleep
For the promises you never never keep
Only this time I'll be fine
You'll be tied up and you'll be mine

It's a shame
You're to blame
It's a fact
I counteract

I will hunt you in your sleep
For the promises you never never keep
Only this time I'll be fine
You'll be tied up and you'll be mine

I withhold from you attention and desire
I deny you my voracity, my fire
I deprive you of all colour, face your grey
When I pass you now, I look the other way
