

When ashes fall into abyss
And we are left with just the truth on our hands
We try to escape
We try to forget

We try to deny
To save us regret
But with or without our mistakes
The world keeps on turning

We say "I love you"
We also point our guns
We aim at strangers
But strangers also love
Bullets fly
Mothers cry
But the world
The world keeps on turning

We can make war
Hate from the core
And someone watch (And someone watch)
Their money search
(Their money search)

No matter who you are
No matter how you live
No matter who you love
No matter how you pray
We are all slaves to time
We are all slaves to time
We are all slaves to time
We are slaves to time

When ashes fall into abyss
And we are left with just the blood on our hands
What did we fight for?
Did we win?

Maybe we'll live
To see the day
When time will arise our mistakes
As the world, the world keeps turning
