

Quitter

Edgewater

So disappointed, always a step behind
Can't you hear all of the noises
Scraping the back of my mind
Did you realize that I so despise all those times I've wasted counting on you?
Yeah, I'm so sick of being used

Why can't you see I'm falling apart
Why are you walking from me?
Why can't you say it the silence is jaded
So shut your mouth 'cause I'm sick of it
The time has come just to call it quits
And walk away let me be

Such an insult such a traitor what defines the name that you carry
Such a curse such a quitter all I hear is the words that you shattered
Did you realize that I so despise all those times I've wasted counting on you?
Yeah I'm so sick of being used

Walk away

So disappointed as you walk away as you walk away
Dead and avoided as you slip away and you kneel and pray

Walk away
