Forever

Sitting by the window Staring out into the night Waiting up for the light of day And the sound of silence The faintly flaring candle light Parting has got me Around to go insane

Alone I try to while away my time Seconds turn to ages As I close my eyes and wait Sometimes I wonder What's the reason why We long for someone to embrace And say hello to say goodbye

Carry on - and I will forever Longing drives bad memories away And still I carry on and I will forever Cause when I see you smile I dare to believe again

Is there anybody out there To keep on looking for If you don't know then lie to me Blue eyed for a letdown If this is what it takes To maybe see the light I'll dare to shed another tear

Oh I Know The wind blows cold tonight But anyhow I gotta go Tell me girl where are you now

Carry on and I will forever...

I tried to build a wall And let nobody in To be on my own Without love and without pain Without pain I don't know why But every time I look into your face Into your face I am caught and I relapse again

Carry on, it's forever Longing drives and memories away

Carry on and I will forever...

Edguy