Vain Glory Opera

The prayers have been spoken may the gods be on my side may they join my way to bring me victory seven at one stroke my triumph and my pride will be history but behind my enemies eyes a soul in disguise not only lies

We live to fight the hand of doom we got the pride to strike a fool vain glory be my wicked guide what's hell without a paradise what's the night without a day we would think it's bright what's a fall if we can't rise what's a hero at a play without a fool to fight

but behind my enemies eyes
a soul in disguise
not only lies
