

Always Will

Edie Brickell & New Bohemians

We're supposed to be together, I know
I feel it way down deep in my soul
We're never meant to be apart
I keep you here inside of my heart

I always have, always will
Always, always, always will

I always have, always will
Always, always, always will

We're supposed to be together, it's true
I've had my doubts but not about you
We're never meant to be apart
I love you now, I have from the start

I always have, always will
Always, always, always will

I always have, always will
Always, always, always will

I always have, always will
Always, always, always will

I always have, always will
Always, always, always will