I still love the light oh baby
Keeps me awake but I don't mind
Everything I always wanted
Is right there but soon it won't be

If fortune favors the brave
I am as awful as they come
I got a million things to say
I got a million things to

I still love the light oh baby
Keeps me awake but I don't mind
Everything I always wanted
Is right there but soon it won't be

If fortune favors the brave
I am as awful as they come
I got a million things to say
I got a million things to

I still love the light oh baby
I still love the light oh baby
I still love the light oh baby

If fortune favors the brave
I am as awful as they come
I got a million things to say
I got a million things to

A million things to say
A million things to say
