

Room Enough

Ednita Nazario

Now and then I think things over.
I guess I'm Afraid,
That if I cry upon your shoulders you might go away.

I try to look inside myself
To figure out what's wrong.
Sometimes the love is in your eyes
And other times it's gone.

Is the way you're feeling when you hold me
Worth the holding on?

(Coro 1)

Cause I want it all...
Body and Soul...
I even want the part of you, you won't let go.
So open your heart and just let me in...
And there may be room enough for both of us again.

I recall when we were magic everything was good.
But now it seems that I've been getting
Everything but you.

(Coro 2)

Cause I want it all...
Body and Soul...
I even want the part of you, you won't let go.
So open your heart and just let me in...
And there will be room enough for both of us again.
