

Sing For You

Edwin McCain

I've been fighting all my life just to be here
Self-inflicted weather, I chose gray instead of clear
You blink a tear from your eye and twenty years goes by
And all of the rest just disappears

I wanna make you laugh
I wanna make you cry
I wanna take you back and come alive

'Cause I just wanna sing for you
Wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you
Oh, like I used to do
I wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you

I never knew this life could be so fleeting
We drank from that cup like it would always be full
And all of this time can be deceiving
The songs of our lives are indestructible

I wanna make you laugh
I wanna make you cry
I wanna take you back and come alive

'Cause I just wanna sing for you
Wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you
Oh, like I used to do
I wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you

I wanna make you laugh
I wanna make you cry
I wanna take you back and come alive
What do you say you and me make one more memory

'Cause I just wanna sing for you
Wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you
Oh, like I used to do
I wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you

I wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you
I wanna sing for you, sing for you, sing for you
