

Bergamot Feels

Edwin Raphael

You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you
You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you

You got something that I can't explain
You can feel it flowing in your veins
Is it you or I who's insane?
In my feelings, no I'll carry on

These feelings, so strange that I
Can't feel it
No sense but I'm still breathing
So strange that I
Can't feel it
When I've been hurt before, before
I've tried it all

Now you're staring into space
You're losing all your focus on home
But you keep a straight face yes
It's not easy for you too

You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you
You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you
You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you

Say you want to go somewhere
Somewhere where the sun will shine
But you don't want to listen
Cause listening's not a part of your style

You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you
You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you
You caught the bergamot feels
And I caught the feels for you

Say you want to go somewhere
Somewhere where the sun will shine
