

And I swear I was starving
Before I tasted you
And I swear I've got your photos

From your Kodak next to mine
She said 'think about nothing'
How weird does that sound
She said 'leave and let it go'

And you've probably got your girls
And your girls have got you
You can lie and tell them things
'It will get better now'
She said 'think about nothing'
How weird does that sound
She said 'leave and let it go'

And how could I, tell me how could I
Trust you now, trust you now
And how could I, tell me how could I
Trust you now, trust you now
Trust you now, trust you now

And the wolves are coming out
You don't want to hurt yourself
And your thoughts are about us
And your flaws are about us
And you don't want to hurt yourself
And you don't want to hurt yourself

How could I, tell me how could I
Trust you, you now
How could I, tell me how could I
Trust you, you now
How could I, tell me how could I
Trust you, you now