

OK

Eels

I got hurt, so what?
That's just how it goes
Sometimes that's what a day'll do to you

There were times I didn't think that I'd see the sun rise
And that was fine by me
I didn't care for bein' alive

If there was somethin' someone could've told me
That would've helped one bit
Well, I'm sure a lotta you tried

But you know, there's nothin' no one can say
To do a bit o' good
When someone's made up their mind to go away

And I don't know what anything means anymore
And I don't know anything for sure
But I know it's another day
And I'm okay

You told me it was just a dark night
And I said, "No, this is somethin' more"
But you were right
