

I've seen the truth fall out of my mouth
Into your life
Shatter divine

I've seen the seeds fall out of pylons
Collapse and fall behind

As we walk upon the wire
Of these lives that went before
As we walk along the mountains
And scatter seeds on shore

This is where we are
This is what we become...

I've never seen the truth like this
Had the blind eyes turned to fire
Been the hydra on the landscape
Became one with you

I've seen the little summer come
And bring with it hope
Of the new line spread before us

The light, fire and smoke
Of the face upon the water
The soul beneath the skin
Of your hand beside my heart
A new reason to live

This is where we are
This is what we become...
