

I've been falling deep
Lost in my own dream
Stuck here in the quicksand
It's suffocating me
When will I find the air?
It seems so out of reach
Is it all an illusion?
It feels so hard to breathe

I walked the path
Right through the fire
Been lost for so long
Caught in space and time

Out of the dark
Into the light
I never felt so bright
This is what it feels like
When worlds collide

When worlds collide

I felt the spark
Broke through the glass
It's crystal clear
There's no going back
On higher ground
I feel alive
The energy inside me
Is starting to ignite

I walked the path
Right through the fire
Been lost for so long
Caught in space and time

Out of the dark
Into the light
I never felt so bright
This is what it feels like
When worlds collide

When worlds collide
