

Don't Surrender

Egzod

Darling, I've been tempted by the darkness
Telling me that I should throw it, throw it all away
Fight so hard my heart is hardly helpless
Find myself so desperate on my on my knees to pray

And I hear the voice of an angel
Telling me not to lay it down
I feel the spirit guiding
Telling me not to give up now

I hold on to every promise
I been praying for a light
I hold on to every comet
Won't surrender-not tonight

Shadows rise as I walk through the valley
But I won't let nothing
Take my, take my heart away
I recognize the powers as they rally
Call their names-I break them one by one and face to face

And I hear the voice of an angel
Telling me not to lay it down
I feel the spirit guiding
Telling me not to give up now

I hold on to every promise
I been praying for a light
I hold on to every comet
Won't surrender-not tonight
