

Argue

Eidola

So take this you're bound to feel something
There's no point in talking yourself out
Of common ground
Please don't forget to step sideways
Intentions lead to malfunctions
Through the eyes, no surprises

Higher and higher
Burn this city, burn this city
Higher and higher
We always do our best to stop and forget
Higher and higher
Burn this city, burn this city
Higher and higher
Caught in the same mistake, to always disagree

Always monitoring pulses and attempting
To keep your head on tight, at least for the night
Did you forget to wear clothing?
Or did you leave your morals back at home
Where we all belong?

Oh no
Oh no
Oh no

Oh yeah
The night's still young
We're never going home
Never going home
Oh yeah
The night's still young
We're never going home
Never going home
We've got everything you need
