

No Weapon Formed Shall Prosper

Eidola

This iteration chewed up and spit me out
No restitution for an empty man
My generation, useless and hollowed out
No revolution for the spineless, capricious pigs
Worthless pigs

Stare into an endless mass of liars and deceivers
Not a one among them tells the truth
Am I the only one grinding down my teeth?
The scenery I see is lingering in entropy
God, tell me how
Am I the only one hearing vultures circling my fate?
A moment from my collapse
I'll leave this all behind

Hold your breath under water
Do you feel it, feel it?
Aren't you inspired?
Or are you motionless?
Leave your fear in the fire
Do you feed it, feed it?
Aren't you so tired of all the times you let it win?

If you bend, it doesn't mean you have to break
A pacifist finds his strength, a nomad escapes his fate
A gentle kiss in the falling rain, it'll find you there

We are all eternity repeating

How many men will die trying to make this right?
You'll become everything you fear
How many men will die trying to make this right?
You'll become everything you fear

Hold your breath under water
Do you feel it, feel it?
Aren't you inspired?
Or are you motionless?
Leave your fear in the fire
Do you feed it, feed it?
Aren't you so tired of all the times you let it win?
You always fucking let it win

Stare into an endless mass of tyrants and believers
Who will be the first to get the noose?

Am I the only one without a stone to throw?
I'm giving up again to find out what I've always known
God, tell me how
Am I the only one with nothing left to say?
With nothing left to give, it always ends this way
A price I'll always pay
A price I'll always pay
